

MULE CREEK POST

Published weekly on Wednesdays except for the summer months
when it is published bi-weekly.

Published by the Mule Creek Post
P.O. Box 1000, Mule Creek, CA 95541
Phone: (916) 338-1000

To Our Readers

By E. M. Post

I am writing to you today to express my appreciation for the many ways you have supported the Mule Creek Post. Your subscriptions, donations, and advertising have helped us to continue to provide you with the latest news and information from our community.

We are proud to be a part of the Mule Creek community and to serve you with the highest quality of journalism. We will continue to work hard to bring you the most accurate and timely news possible.

Thank you for your continued support and for making the Mule Creek Post a part of your life.

We look forward to continuing to serve you and to providing you with the best news and information from our community.

With sincere appreciation,
E. M. Post
Editor, Mule Creek Post

Remembering 9-11, 15 Years Later

By E. M. Post

Fifteen years ago today, on September 11, 2001, the world was forever changed. The terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon in New York City, and the simultaneous attack on the USS Cole in the Philippines, resulted in the deaths of thousands of people and the destruction of property worth billions of dollars.

The attacks on 9-11 were a wake-up call for the world, and they led to the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq. They also led to the creation of the Department of Homeland Security and the passage of the Patriot Act.

As we remember 9-11, 15 years later, we must reflect on the impact of these attacks on our lives and on the world.

We must also reflect on the resilience of the American people and the strength of our democracy.

We must also reflect on the importance of unity and the power of the American spirit.

As we look back on 9-11, 15 years later, we must also look forward to the future and to the challenges that lie ahead.

We must continue to work together to build a better world for ourselves and for future generations.

With sincere appreciation,
E. M. Post
Editor, Mule Creek Post

Celebrating Mexican Independence Day

By E. M. Post

Mexican Independence Day is celebrated on September 16th each year. It is a day of national pride and unity, and it is a time to reflect on the history and culture of Mexico.

The day is celebrated with a variety of traditions, including parades, fireworks, and the singing of the Mexican national anthem. It is a day to celebrate the achievements of the Mexican people and to look forward to the future.

Mexican Independence Day is a day of national pride and unity, and it is a time to reflect on the history and culture of Mexico. It is a day to celebrate the achievements of the Mexican people and to look forward to the future.

With sincere appreciation,
E. M. Post
Editor, Mule Creek Post

The Mexican flag is a symbol of national identity and pride. It is a flag that has stood the test of time and that continues to inspire the Mexican people.

The Mexican flag is a symbol of national identity and pride. It is a flag that has stood the test of time and that continues to inspire the Mexican people.

The Mexican flag is a symbol of national identity and pride. It is a flag that has stood the test of time and that continues to inspire the Mexican people.

The Mexican flag is a symbol of national identity and pride. It is a flag that has stood the test of time and that continues to inspire the Mexican people.

The Mexican flag is a symbol of national identity and pride. It is a flag that has stood the test of time and that continues to inspire the Mexican people.

With sincere appreciation,
E. M. Post
Editor, Mule Creek Post

The Twin Towers of the World Trade Center were a symbol of the power and strength of the United States. They were a landmark that inspired the American people and that stood as a testament to the American dream.